U.S. v. Max Vance | Case no.
4:24-CR-00015

Motion to dismiss without prejudice ("Motion to transfer for trial pursuant to federal rule of criminal procedure 21") or, in the alternative, Motion to deny without prejudice ("Motion to transfer for trial pursuant to federal rule of criminal procedure 21")

The incarceration has been implemented in a manner that is incredibly prejudicial to the defense. It also affords unethical advantages to the antagonist. My access to information necessary to properly and comprehensively brief a motion for a transfer of venue is being blocked. The process of determining whether there is a remedy to fix the information blocking problem is slower than anticipated.
I am not currently aware of a completion date for the process. I am requesting something akin to a cancellation or dismissal of the change of venue rule 21 motion so that I can refile the motion after the process of determining whether or not there is a fix for the aforementioned problem has been completed.
